WORKSHOPS

Silicon Sky can host a number of workshops to understand your IT objectives and infrastructure challenges.

The requirements can be prioritised and an agreed action plan is formulated to address your challenges.

ASSESSMENTS

An assessment consists of an in-depth analysis of your environment. The outcome of the assessment determines the recommendations for the future environment to meet business needs. An architectural design is provided to identify the future state benefits and the ability to move to a detailed design.

DESIGN & IMPLEMENTATION

This includes a detailed micro-design of the technology proposed based on reference architectures. Implementation guidelines and risk mitigation are identified before delivery. Implementation consists of project management, system integration, full production implementation, training and support procedures.
